I feel like I'm in an episode of the X-Files. I'm starting to 'believe' what is happening but of course the truth that is out there is hard to grasp. I'm being set up, lead by alternative facts and misleading information. The show never provided an answer and neither does anyone in politics. Even the most damming evidence seems to mean nothing to others who choose to ignore the facts or make excuses. It's going to take a whole planet being probed in order for people to wake up and splash some cold water on their face. Things are not as they should be.

I don't think I'm gonna have kids like you guys. You're still young but I'm not going to change your mind.

It's easy enough for sure... Eventually your alone, you grow old and die.
When one door closes, another opens.

What if life still sucks even if I don't have KIDS???

I know I could never be president, I don't have the answers. Except...

Never Should of Shot Harambe.

You will have good luck in the Spring.
I am a virus. I shed skin cells and hair particles. I am a virus. I could stand in the middle of nowhere and my presence begins to kill my cells.

I am a virus. I discover new & fresh soon enough become old.

I am a virus. I speak up in a room full of ignorance and prejudice but then the room turns silent. I am a virus. I come to your aid when you are hurt and you realize you are not alone. I am a virus. We stand together in masses. We are a Virus.
