WHAT DOES CURRENT IMMIGRATION POLICY ACCOMPLISH?

By: Adam Funck
America Is A Melting Pot!
We in this country are all a product of immigration
How quickly we forget where we came from!
If you take away the rights of some how much longer will the rest of us have our rights?

How do you expect someone to come from a third world country and have high socioeconomic status?

Let people work to bring themselves out of poverty
How do you expect someone to make money and contribute to the economy if you make it illegal for them to work?

Many Immigrants get taxes taken out of their paycheck and none receive any social benefits or tax refunds
How can you call a person Illegal?

Aliens are from outer space, not other countries!

When Immigration laws become stricter, migration patterns don’t change. What is accomplished by imposing these stricter laws? Nothing, besides taking what should be unalienable rights away. A right to work and get an education.

Families are torn apart when people are deported

Waiting to legally migrate into the country takes too long

Some people get approved to immigrate while their family is just supposed to wait. How does that make sense?

People get preference because of higher socioeconomic status

Those that are trying to make a better life for themselves and their families are not allowed to try to do so
People who are undocumented are blocked from pursuing higher education. Those that have grown up in the United States and graduated from high school in the US are blocked from continuing education by laws or the fact that they are being required to pay international student tuition.
